ClearGage Announces Rashawn Allen as Chief Revenue Officer

Tampa, FL, May 17, 2019 - ClearGage, LLC, a provider of patient payment technology and financial services, announced that Rashawn Allen has joined their leadership team as Chief Revenue Officer. Allen joins ClearGage from Waystar, bringing extensive experience in driving sales and business development in the healthcare industry. At ClearGage, Allen will oversee sales, marketing, and business development to jumpstart initiatives that will contribute to the company's short- and long-term growth.

"I was initially attracted to ClearGage because of the people and the culture that define the organization," says Allen. "ClearGage has built a great foundation with a product suite that caters to the needs of most Americans. As consumers continue to struggle under the burdens of high-deductible health plans, patients are seeking options in which they can pay for their treatment and providers are in search of solutions to help them collect from patients. I look forward to contributing to ClearGage's mission and making this company an exciting place to work."

Prior to ClearGage, Allen spent the first 12 years at the revenue cycle management company, Navicure holding multiple leadership positions where he was a key player in increasing revenue from $6 million in 2005 to $100 million in 2016. He most recently served as National Vice President of Channel Development for Waystar (formally Navicure & Zirmed). For 2 years he was responsible for implementing strategies to expand the company's partner network and improving partner relations through programs to drive adoption and sales.

Early in his career, Allen began at Navicure and was promoted to Sales Executive where he recruited, trained, and developed a strong team that consistently met or exceeded quota. Allen received his Bachelor's of Business Administration from Emory University while leading the university's basketball team.

"We are excited to have Rashawn on the team to lead our growth initiatives," said Chip Hunziker, CEO of ClearGage. "Rashawn's knowledge in healthcare technology and business development, coupled with his dynamic energy, is exactly what we need to continue our significant growth."
